Lillunia Art creates watercolor art for children that depicts animals in the wild. Founded in 2008 by Eve Gianni Corio and Laura L.M. Hill, the goal is to teach children to love and respect animals and the environment, through natural art that is not childish nor cutesy. I particularly like this piece, Dylan's Dolphins. It would be a great complement to a nursery or child's room with a marine theme. The small-sized print measures 7" x 14" with an optional 11" x 18" frame. The larger print is 10" x 20" with an optional 14" x 24" frame. Prices start at $185. You can view this beautiful work of art and many more at Lillunia.com.
